extra curricular calendar

There is a lot going on in London to enrich your time here outside of the classroom, and we hope you get to experience as much of it as possible! We've compiled a list of activities throughout your semester that have proven popular in the past + we think are unmissable...

Every ticket is subsidised by FIE - you won't find it cheaper anywhere else!

We'll open up signups for one week only on MONDAY 18th JANUARY and close on FRIDAY 22nd JANUARY. There is limited availability on many events, so make sure if you're desperate to get a ticket you are first in the queue! To sign up you need to make full payment for your activity, so come armed with cash (we can't take card, sorry).

Your Res Life and Student Life staff will be joining you on some activities - so look out for them!

Ignite brunch ● The Royal Albert Hall ● Sunday 14th March, 11:30am

For lazy Sundays with live music you can get no better than the spectacular Ignite brunches, taking place at the world famous Royal Albert Hall. Nicola Emmanuelle has been described in Time Out as a charismatic and charming performer with a richly expressive, show-stopper of a voice. Experience her fantastic performance bringing you a taste of real swing over great food and drink in this impressive setting.

● £20 cost includes welcome drink, main course, dessert, tea or coffee and live music ● facebook ●

London Philharmonic Orchestra ● Royal Festival Hall ● Wednesday 14th April, 7:30pm

The globally renowned London Philharmonic orchestra perform at the famous Royal Festival Hall, part of London's newly refurbished Southbank Centre. In 1886 the young composer Strauss planned a new work to suitably impress during his debut as conductor of the Munich Opera Orchestra. On a trip to Italy, the composer was overwhelmed by Venice and Florence, and by the sight of Mount Vesuvius which erupted even before his eyes. 'The ideas came in flocks', he enthused, the only trouble being, one of them wasn't an Italian folk-tune as Strauss had thought, but a song by a native composer. Royalty legislation kicked in, and Aus Italien was shelved. Now freed from copyright constraints, hear the sumptuous symphonic fantasy that might have become Strauss' orchestral calling card.

Where ever you see this logo you can click on it to take you to the event on Facebook. Whilst 'attending' an event on Facebook does not guarantee you a place or ticket, it is the first place information will go about that event + is a good way to communicate with other students going.

TIP: if an event is sold out, register as 'maybe attending' on the event to be the first in the know about spare tickets that might come up!
